Northland, New Zealand

Conference Pack

We would love to see you here

Welcome to Doubtless Bay

Sweeping in a gigantic arc, Doubtless Bay is a lengthy bay with shady pohutukawa trees, pretty swimming beaches and rugged rocky bays where you'll encounter rejuvenating holiday destinations.

At Cable Bay check out the pinkish sand. There are rock pools and a small lagoon and surf-casting is popular here. At Coopers Beach there is safe swimming and the pohutukawa trees provide welcome shade. Taipa combines the open sea with the shelter of the estuary and there is often good surf here. The oddly shaped and wonderfully scenic Karikari Peninsula has earned the reputation as a go to place for some much needed R&R. Here you will find beaches facing all points of the compass in close proximity. You can decide on the day whether you want to catch a sunrise or sunset, surfcast or swim, and pick your beach.

Mangonui is the first township in the bay heading north and was once a whaling port, but is now notable for its courthouse, historic reserve and its famous fish and chips.

Ninety Mile Beach is actually only 56 miles (90Kms) long and runs from Ahipara to almost the top of the North Island. Cape Reinga is nearly the North Island's most northernmost point (Survive Cliffs are 4km further north, but less accessible).

Kaitaia is the northernmost town in New Zealand and the last major stop before heading north to explore the Aupouri Peninsula. Close to many tourist attractions including Ninety Mile Beach and Karikari Peninsula, the town is a good base to explore sand-surfing, 4WD treks and blo-karting on the beach, fishing, diving and surfing. Many tour operators start their Cape Reinga tours from here. There is a good selection of art and craft in Kaitaia and the wine tasting is available at the local winery. A game of golf is just a short drive away as is an authentic gum-digging park that reveals an ancient buried kauri forest.
